THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1892.

At the last meeting of the Municipal Council an appropriation of $125 was made to each ward, with an additional $50 to the town ward, to be expended in improvements on roads and bridges.

For the past two years a majority of the members of the Council tenaciously held to the opinion that in the interests of the Municipality no expenditure should be made in this direction.

There does not appear to be any more urgent necessity for this outlay at present than there was heretofore, but even at this late date we are pleased to see that the dams that have been built at considerable cost are to be repaired and protected against floods and roads made passable.

Our ratepayers have become so accustomed to paying taxes annually, and no improvements to show for the money paid, that they look upon the Council as an institution empowered to provide for the payment of the mill bonus and salaries.

As a result of this departure we trust that the Council will not consider it incumbent upon them to levy a rate equal to that of 1890, in order that two or three thousand dollars in the Treasurers' hands, bearing no interest, can be pointed to as a proof of the solvency of the Municipality, and the wisdom and economy of the men in charge of our Municipal affairs.

There would be just as much good fellowship in asking one to have a cake of soap, a pound of crackers and sugar, a gallon of oil or a clean shirt as there is in inviting him to turn himself into a tank or a smoke house at your expense.

When a group of male fellows get together they not uncommonly line up before a bar and in turn "set 'em up," and they separate uncomplainingly full of soda, sarsaparilla, and ginger ale, or something stronger.

The ends of companionship would have been served as well if they had visited a men's furnishing store and loaded up with collar buttons, cuff buttons, neck scarfs, hosiery and like accessories to the toilet of a gentleman.

At first it might sound a little strange to hear "what'll you have?" answered by "a pair of socks, thank you," but the novelty would soon wear off, and mankind would be the gainers by the invocation. If "treating" must continue why not adopt this suggestion? But the whole custom is utterly foolish, and would be so recognized in Europe, where a request to join in a drink or a cigar would be regarded as an insult.—Standard.

TUPPER IS CONFIDENT. LONDON, May 7.—In conversation with a reporter, Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian high commissioner to England, expressed confidence that Lord Salisbury intends to give effect to the desire of Canada for denunciation of the Belgium and German treaties, despite the tenor of the recent dispatch of Lord Knutsford, colonial secretary, to the contrary.

Lord Salisbury, Sir Charles said, proposes to place India and all British colonies on an equal footing.

WHY NOT TREAT? Why not treat such troubles as boils, pimples, blotches, sores, humors, eruptions, rashes, skin irritations, etc., with Burdock Blood Bitters. It is filled with virtue as a blood purifier and goes right to the right spot. It makes the skin bright and clear, while also invigorating the entire system.

PIONEER LIFE IN ONTARIO.

The following extract from a letter written to the Samia Observer by Mr. Freeman Talbot, grandfather of Mrs. S. H. Caswell, a gentleman 82 years of age, on pioneer life in Ontario, may be of interest to our settlers who are inclined to think their lot hard in this country:—

In the year 1827 when a mere lad I stood for the first time on the site now occupied by your prosperous town, brought there by the late Colonel Roswell Mount, of Canada, county of Middlesex, for the purpose of surveying the townships of Moore and Samia. We found on the Saint Clair river an old settlement, some having located there as early as the year 1790.

The Courtneys lived in a large frame house, had an extensive farm for that day, a good garden, peach and apple trees in full bearing, and seemed quite as comfortable as they were unquestionably hospitable, others had smaller frame houses, others again had good log houses, chimneys well plastered with lime and sand, and whitewashed outside and in.

Those people had no law

 Had led his night song over

"Put on some dignity, and be as you ease, as if you were used to it. I'll bring home a book for you both to study up. I won't have them think," he added firmly, "that we are overwhelmed with the honour."

"I'll have them think both of you, remember," Lord Polonium said. "Lady Jessalinda are getting the best of the bargain, as you shall see in good time. That's all," he said, turning to go away. "Except this, Mary, you are not to call me 'Matt,' when I tell you to do so. Call me 'Balbous,' or 'Mr. Balbous,' or—'Mr. Balbous, my love,' if you like; and I will do the same. Of course Agnes will not speak unless she is spoken to."

When he returned to two ladies a little pink in the face, he went away to his business. It was mysterious to them, but they had to await his pleasure to explain what he meant. Balbous was cross and impatient when he came home in the evening to dress, because he was conscious of feeling nervous and of betraying it. He had never before been an invited guest at a lord's house. He was to be the only guest, too, which to begin with, was not giving him what he considered a very good thing. But the business thinking of Lord Polonium and Lady Jessalinda less than the reticent, silent, observant menials.

When he returned at half-past eleven, it was past the usual time the dinner had gone off; perhaps, perhaps Balbous had covered hitherto unknown powers of rising to the occasion. He had dropped into a chair on his way home, and casually mentioned to several men he knew that he had been in the evening to Lord Polonium and Lady Jessalinda; he had even hinted at more. He was therefore in good humor when he got home.

"Mary, be sure to tell my wife, as he flung himself in an easy chair and stretched out his legs, "that I told her not to fail in anything that I undertook."

"No, Matt," was the gentle reply.

"I never yet," he continued reflectively, "got my eye on a property that was doomed for the market that I didn't in the end find something of it and that the business thing was worth my while. I waited for years, never losing sight of it for a day. That's the way to succeed; be patient, keeping steady on the track, and you'll run down your game in the end. Well, I have succeeded. It's a big thing, but I have succeeded."

"I am sure you have, Matt, whatever it is."

"But you don't dream what it is. What's the chance of being rich if you can't get high if it hadn't been for me? Well, there, I won't talk about it now," he said generously, noticing the look of pain in his wife's face. "That was a failure; but if you are not capable yourself of succeeding, why should I? I don't care to be a lord, but there, with a lot of money, good enough for any swell in the Guards, I'd like to know, if she only had the ability to work herself up. That she hasn't, and well, I have her at last, my money, my fortune, my success. I'll see her, one fine day. That's how they treat us."

Mother and daughter exchanged a glance and inwardly trembled; for they had been told that the Earl of Polonium was a curate, which it was terrible to think of Mr. Balbous discovering.

"What do you suppose, now, is going to happen?" he said, after a pause. "Jem is going to be Lord Polonium, St. George's high if it hadn't been for me. Well, there, I won't talk about it now," he said generously, noticing the look of pain in his wife's face. "That was a failure; but if you are not capable yourself of succeeding, why should I? Brain in Winter.

Brain does not retire from to-

Town & Country Callings.

—Rev. Mr. Green went to Winnipeg on Monday last.

—Mr. Asa McIntosh is here from British Columbia with a carload of horses.

—Mr. W. B. Sheppard has over one thousand acres of wheat sown on the Alliance Farm.

—Navigation on the lakes is now open. The Manitoban reached Fort William on May 2nd.

—Mr. John North lost a valuable mare a few days ago. This is the second since January last.

—Don't forget Mr. Hill's sale on Saturday. Every article mentioned on the bills will be offered for sale.

—Mrs. Tease and granddaughter, Miss Wilson, arrived from the County of Kilkenny, Ireland, on Saturday.

—Herbert Evans, a nephew of Mr. J. P. Jones, arrived from Liverpool on the 3rd inst., and is located with his uncle.

—Mr. Kennedy, who has lived at New Westminster, B.C., for many years, was in town on Thursday visiting Mr. Buckham.

—Mrs. Turnbull, Mr. Egeiton, a farm student, and two servants, arrived at St. John's College from England on Monday last.

—Rev. Dr. McLean will give an address at the Teachers' Convention, Wolsley, on Friday night. Subject, "A tenderfoot at home."

—Mr. James B. Graham and son, who resided here some years ago, have purchased the Militia Enterprise. We wish them success.

—Mr. J. P. Jones, of Edgely, met with an accident a few days ago. The horse he was riding fell, and in the fall badly sprained Mr. Jones' ankle.

—The first rat ever seen in the Territories came to Calgary from the coast in a car of sugar a few days ago. It will not make the return journey.

—Rev. Mr. Mellick, Superintendent of Baptist Missions, will preach in McLean's Hall on Sunday next; morning at 11 and evening at 7. Everybody welcome.

—The Central Assiniboia Teachers' Association holds its convention at Wolsley to-day and to-morrow. A large number of teachers will be present, and a good time is expected.

—Judge Ryan, of Portage la Prairie, passed through town to Fort Qu'Appelle on Tuesday last. Mr. S. H. Caswell, who is an old friend of the Judge, had the pleasure of his company for a time.

—Race horses are again to be seen out exercising. The old favorite Sugarfoot is in training for the summer races. Thankful arrived from British Columbia a few days ago and is also being put into shape.

—District Deputy Grand Master Weeks, of Regina, attended the regular communication of Qu'Appelle Lodge A. F. & A. M. on Tuesday night on his official tour of inspection. He visits Fort Qu'Appelle to-day.

—Mr. Hartley Gisborne has erected a very artistic fence around his premises that very much improves the appearance of the place. Like improvements and a little paint would do much towards beautifying the town.

—The Qu'Appelle Creamery will start operations on May 23rd. Mr. Caswell expects to do much larger business this year than in any previous year, and is making preparations to open out in full blast on the above date.

—A passenger going west on Tuesday morning's train, whose name or destination could not be ascertained, was suffering from severe rupture and was dangerously ill. A doctor was telegraphed for to meet the train on arrival at Regina.

—Mr. Hartley Gisborne has been appointed Chief Consul of the Canadian Wharfen's Association for the North-West Territories, Division No. 9. Mr. Gisborne will have control and management of races governed by the association until the clubs in the Territories elect a Chief Consul.

—Miss Maggie Ferguson, who has been waitress at the Queen's Hotel for the past two years, left on Thursday last for her home at Moosomin. Prior to Miss Ferguson's departure the boarders presented her with a handsome gold ring and brooch, as a mark of their esteem, accompanied by an address expressing regret that she was severing her connection with the hotel, and good wishes for her future happiness and prosperity.

—Mr. Horne has sold his lease of the Queen's Hotel to Messrs. Whiffin and Barnes, who take over the management of the house on May 15th. They propose to make such improvements as will make this one of the very best hotels in the Territories.

—We learn from reliable sources that the reported loss of cattle in the ranching districts of Alberta from the effects of the recent storms has been greatly exaggerated, and that the probable loss does not exceed four or five per cent. and this chiefly among old cows and weak heifers.

—We would suggest that the town road overseer has a few more crossings built on Qu'Appelle Street, so that pedestrians on the west side will not be forced to walk over plows, disc harrows, cultivators, gang plows, binders, buggies, etc. What has become of our Nuisance Inspector? Has he, like his predecessors, been superannuated?

WHITEWOOD.

PRESENTATION OF A FORESTER'S CHECK FOR $3,000.

The main plank in the Independent Order of Foresters is life insurance. A remarkable instance of the benefits of the Order occurred in Whitewood a short time ago. Mr. Richmond Hart, of the Hudson Bay Company, joined Court Assiniboia, Whitewood, as a charter member. Seven days from the signing of his life policy in the head office at Toronto Bro. Hart died with awful suddenness, of apoplexy, leaving a widow and three children. On Friday last, Messrs. John Hawkes, A. Miller, D. Campbell, M.L.A., and—Hendrickson, officers of the Whitewood Court, waited on Mrs. Hart, the widow, at the Hudson Bay House, Whitewood, when Mr. Miller read a brief address, brimful of sympathy. Mr. Hawkes then handed the widow a cheque for $3,000. Mrs. Hart, in accepting the cheque, thanked the deputation in a few very becoming words, which were supplemented by some appropriate remarks from Chief Factor Archibald Macdonald, who was present as a friend of the family. Mr. Macdonald spoke most highly of the Independent Order, and said its noble work could not fail to be helped forward by such cases as the present. On behalf of Mrs. Hart, he wished to thank the Order for the promptitude and liberality with which they had met the claim, and also to gratefully acknowledge the kindness which had been shown to Mrs. Hart by the Whitewood Foresters in her great loss, and in the severe illness from which she has only just recovered. We understand that Mr. John Hawkes has received the high rank of a Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger, with a commission to organize Foresters' Courts in the Territories, and he is to be congratulated on commencing with the pleasing duty of making this presentation. If any district is desirous of a Foresters' Court communications will be addressed to him at Whitewood.

A WINNIPEGGER'S OPINION.
The following is taken from a letter from Mr. Evans, of Winnipeg, Man.: "Being persuaded to use Hayward's Pectoral Balsam for a troublesome cold, I was entirely cured by the use of two bottles."

WATSON ON THE RAILWAY.

Mr. Watson, member for Marquette, made the following remarks with reference to the Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle Railway in the House on the 9th inst.:—The Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle railway corporation were men of straw as the minister knew. Their charter and land grant was renewed for thirteen or fourteen years. The Great Northwest Central had land grants for six hundred miles of road. The Liberals could do nothing as there was no further opportunity of offering further grants, because there was nothing left to grant.

RESTRICTIONS REMOVED.

MONTREAL, May 10.—A cable has been received here announcing that all restrictions are removed in England and Scotland and that Canadian cattle may now move freely through those countries. Some 2,500 Canadian cattle are now on their way to English markets.

CANAL TOLLS.

TORONTO, May 7.—The action of the United States government in regard to imposing tolls on Canadian vessels coming through the Sault Ste Marie canal is being very much discussed among vessel men generally. The embargo will not effect Canadian vessel interests; the chief sufferers will be the C. P. R. vessels which do the main carrying of grain from the Northwest. Vessel owners here think that if the United States government carry out their intention and tax vessels coming through the Soo canal, the Canadian government should interpret the treaty of 1871 as do the Americans and allow no United States craft to pass through the Welland canal with a load on. This is what the United States government has been doing to Canadian vessels in the Erie canal, which is solely under its control.
